

TISPOL Bulletin 20 November 2012

Dear Colleague,

We are now looking forward to TISPOL's Road Policing Seminar in Cyprus, taking place under the Cyprus presidency of the European Union. Police officers from across Europe will be meeting in Nicosia to discuss road policing developments in Cyprus, as well as issues relating to the black economy, the road transport crime situation, opportunities for the exchange of information between networks and specific developments in a number of European countries. This activity complements the work we do in terms of road policing and road safety.

We are also looking forward to a meeting at Europol's HQ in the Hague to discuss developing co-operation with a number of agencies and organisations.

You can now download your copy of the TISPOL Action Plan 2013. This document contains all the important and relevant TISPOL dates for next year.

Many thanks to everyone who has sent us material for use in Bulletins and on the TISPOL website. Our media representative reports a very healthy response to recent requests for stories and images. Although they don't all appear immediately, we do try to use everything you send us.

I hope you will enjoy this Bulletin.

Ian Hamill, TISPOL General Secretary
