

TISPOL Bulletin 1 May 2012

Dear Colleague,

THANKS TO everyone who has submitted material for the forthcoming TISPOL newsletter. This will be published later this month, and will be available in printed form as well as online.

We have been keeping our eyes on recent press reports that we thought might be of interest to you. For example, in Scotland, there has been controversy surrounding speed limits for emergency organ transplant drivers. In South Australia, there are plans to double the licence costs for motorcyclists, with proceeds helping to fund road safety initiatives. Results from the recent speed operation will soon be with us, but the English county of Suffolk already reports more than 700 violators caught between 16 and 22 April. Finally, in New Delhi, helmets for female pillion passengers are to become compulsory.

It's your last chance to have a go at our Spring 2012 quiz. Ten mystery locations, all multiple-choice, from across Europe. And all you need do is identify the correct answer. If you haven't submitted your entry, then please do so today and you could be the lucky winner of the €50 prize.

Ian Hamill (TISPOL General Secretary)

Call for zero tolerance to alcohol on the roads of Europe

ETSC Executive Director Antonio Avenoso spells out the dangers as the organisation publishes its latest publication.

More >

Joint Estonian Swedish truck operation

In an operation earlier this month, police officers found faults on every heavy goods vehicle they stopped.

More >

Polish officers make good use of new camera equipment

The recent Lifesaver Project allowed Polish traffic police to see Norwegian equipment at work - and to adapt the technology for their needs.

More >

SPECIAL REPORT: Reducing road fatalities in Lithuania

Dr Vidmantas Pumputis of Lithuania's Ministry of Transport presents some of the country's successful casualty reduction initiatives.

More >

Register now for TISPOL's annual Conference

2 and 3 October, Edinburgh: find out all about the speakers and the topics to be covered.

More >

VIDEO CLIP: Spare a thought for this Vietnamese officer

A wild ride across Hanoi for Lt. Nguyen Manh Phan, stuck to the front of a 39-seater coach whose driver wouldn't stop.

More >

© TISPOL 2000-2012.

Unsubscribe